

Jessica Zepeda is a paralegal in training and a case manager, managing legal files, discovery, reviewing and analyzing documents and interacting with the courts on behalf of Pacheco & Neach PC. With an education and experience in Political Science she has a foundation in law. Coupled with her legal experience she has a firm understanding of the law and its nuances.

Jessica secured a degree from an excellent university and subsequently expanded her experience at an Orange County law firm, The Moore Law Group, Santa Ana.

Now at Pacheco & Neach PC, Jessica is responsible for a myriad of duties that have included some of the law firm's most significant matters. Her ability to analyze multitudes of documents remains impressive and has been exceedingly helpful to our clients.

Education

- California State University at Channel Islands
 - B.A., Political Science, minor in Psychology